LG playing politics over religious structures: Sisodia

structures" that have held up several key infrastructure projects, the Delhi governments home department, headed by Sisodia, has kept 78 such proposals from various agencies pending since May last year.
Sisodia said the LG has issued a statement saying he has called for files related to the demolition of religious structures. "The LG has claimed that the files have been held up by my depart. ment. It is deeply unfortunate that the LG is choosing to play politits over such a sensitive matter. The matter in question concerns giving clearance for demolition of several religious structures, including many big temples

| that have existed for decades in the city," he said.  Any decision over making any alterations to such structures cannot be taken in haste, let alone allowing those to be demolished, he said. The minister said all factors concerning the matter will be taken into consideration. Sisodia asserted that the government does not want to hurt the religious feelings of anyone and said the impact of such punitive action is being looked into.  "Any decision taken without proper assessment may lead to an adverse situation in the society and thus, we will only take a call over it after carefully examining each and every aspect," he said. |
